

40104 Developmental Studies

Developmental studies provide an opportunity for students to gain the knowledge and skills required to enter one of the many college-level programs at the College. These students may either enroll only in developmental studies, or, if qualified, may enroll in a combination of college-level and developmental courses as approved by their counselor and/or advisor.

(Amended 11/19/13)